

Dear _____

I hope you are having a Merry Christmas! I have been keeping an eye on you, and I must say that I have been disappointed with your recent behavior. You have been very naughty, and I fear that Santa may not bring you any presents this year unless you shape up quick!

I know it can be tempting to misbehave when there are so many temptations around this time of year, but I urge you to resist! Remember, Santa is watching, and he knows when you've been bad or good. So be good for goodness sake, and perhaps you'll still have a happy Christmas after all.

Sincerely,

Your elf friend
